

Knowland to Retire in '58

Senate Leader Stuns Colleagues;
See Bid for Presidency in 1960

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland's decision to retire from the Senate prompted speculation today that he will make a bid for the presidency in 1960.

The 48-year-old Californian stunned his Senate colleagues and caught California political leaders by surprise in announcing Monday that he will not seek reelection when his current term expires in 1958.

Some senators quickly concluded that Knowland, a veteran of 11 years in the Senate, will try to win the California governorship in 1958 and use it as a stepping stone to the White House in 1960.

Knowland had planned to seek the Republican presidential nomination last year before Mr. Eisenhower announced his intention to seek a second term. After the President made known his intentions, Knowland withdrew.

The constitutional prohibition against presidential third terms will prevent Mr. Eisenhower from running again.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon considered by many to be a front-runner for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination, issued a statement here praising Knowland for service "in the highest and best traditions of the United States and Senate."

In California, State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood, a Republican, said he would run for Knowland's Senate seat in 1958. He said his political philosophy is "wholly in accord with the great Eisenhower movement."

Knowland, a conservative on most issues, has sometimes been at odds, as Senate GOP leader, with the President's views. But Senate Republicans again picked him as their leader for the new session of Congress which opened last week.

Sen. William F. Knowland

and Knowland said he would retain the post until his retirement from the Senate.

California Governor Goodwin J. Knight, whose term expires at the same time as Knowland's Senate term, exclaimed, "I must say I'm surprised" when informed of Knowland's decision.

Knight said he expected to discuss the development with Knowland when he comes here for President Eisenhower's Jan. 21 inauguration.

Newsman asked Knight whether he intended to find out from Knowland whether the senator might be a GOP candidate for the California governorship.

"It's entirely up to him to discuss if he wants to," Knight replied. "I won't endeavor to cross-examine him in any way."

Noncommittal On Plans

It has been widely assumed in California that Knight would run for a second term as governor. But Knight refused to say Monday night what his plans will be in 1958.

When asked if he might run for Knowland's Senate seat, he replied: "I declined a chance to run for the Senate in 1949, and I see no reason to change my attitude."

There was speculation here, however, that Knight would be glad to change places with Knowland.

Knowland said he would retire in 1958 because he and his wife would like to be closer to his family—his three children, five grandchildren and his father, 83-year-old Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland (Calif.) Tribune.

No one doubted that family pressures have come to bear on the heavy-set, ruddy-faced senator who was picked by the late Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) to be Taft's successor as GOP floor leader in the Senate.

Broughton Man Struck by Car

Clarence McKenzie, 61, of Broughton Route 2 was injured yesterday when struck by a car while at work on the new road being built from Routes 1 and 141 to U. S. 45 on the White-Gallatin county line.

He was taken to Ferrell hospital in Eldorado suffering a fractured left leg and cuts about the head.

Reports were that he was walking across Route 1 toward a tool shed when he stepped into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Delpha Gimney of Norris City Route 3.

Egyptian Health Dep't Services Include Multitude of Activities in 3 Counties

The annual report of the three-county Egyptian Health Department released by Dr. James H. Wells, health officer, reveals that a total of $68,339.83 was spent between July 1, 1955, and June 30, 1956, for a multitude of health activities in Saline, Gallatin and White counties.

Dr. Wells, in issuing the fourth annual report of the department, pointed out that the department's motto is a "Safer, healthier and happier community life."

The report outlined 16 types of work done by the department, which has its headquarters in the Clinic building of Harrisburg. They are:

Communicable disease control; tuberculosis control; venereal disease control; maternity service; infant health; pre-school health; school health; adult health; other morbidity service; crippled child ren service; mental health; den-

National Income At Record Rate In Third Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP)—National income climbed to a record annual rate of 343.2 billion dollars in the third quarter of last year.

The Commerce Department reported Monday night the income rate for the July-August-September quarter was 5 billion dollars higher than in the previous three months and 15 billion higher than in the comparable period of 1955.

However, the department said that while national income hit new highs in each of the first three quarters of 1956, the rate of gain was somewhat smaller than in 1955.

President, GOP Leaders Agree On Priority List

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower agreed with GOP congressional leaders today on a list of priority legislation for the new Congress. The list was headed by the new Mideast resolution and continuation of present corporation and excise (sales) taxes.

It included measures dealing with Hungarian refugees, school construction and civil rights.

The agreement was reached at the first regular meeting this year between the President and House and Senate Republican leaders.

The GOP leaders conceded their priority list will have to be discussed with the Democratic leadership which controls Congress.

But the Republicans felt there would be a measure of agreement between the two parties on items picked today for early action.

Tax Rate Extension

Current excise taxes on many items and higher corporate tax rates expire April 1. The President and his leaders agreed today there must be early action to extend these levies.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. said the administration will seek an extension of one year in the tax rates.

The excise taxes, applying primarily to liquor, cigarettes and automobiles, yield about one billion dollars annually and the current corporate tax rates yield about two billion dollars.

Mideast Taps List

Topping the priority list was the Mideast resolution now being rushed through House committee hearings.

The rest of the list in the order announced by Knowland was:

Extension of excise and corporate tax rates.

Extension of the refugee bill to clarify the status of Hungarian refugees admitted to this country on "parole" status.

A possible change in corn legislation.

School construction.

Civil rights.

Establishment of a three-million dollar federal fund to encourage a federal-state-local study of juvenile delinquency and explore the need for possible legislation.

The new Chicago area steward has served as state steward at the Fairmount and Cahokia Downs tracks in the East St. Louis area since 1953.

A graduate of Southern Illinois University and John Marshall law school (Chicago), Choisser was elected Saline county judge in 1946, being re-elected in 1950 and retiring at the end of his term in 1954.

He is married to the former Edna Hill of Eldorado and has two children, William, 10, and Lucy, 9. He is a director and one of the principal stockholders in the First State Bank of Eldorado.

In other action yesterday the board appointed Clyde Troutt of Benton to the state steward post at the Fairmount and Cahokia Downs tracks. Troutt served as steward and assistant director of racing at Cahokia Downs last season.

Troutt has been identified actively in thoroughbred racing for the past 35 years.

Autos Collide On Route 34; Both Drivers Injured

Cars driven by William Harbison and Woodrow Wilson Colbert, both of Herod St. route, collided about 5:30 p. m. yesterday on Route 34 at the Harrisburg-Independence township line and both were treated at Lightner hospital.

State Policeman Roy A. Lane said both men were driving southward alone and that when Harbison, employed by the Harper Motor Co. here, started a left turn onto a gravel road, Colbert crashed into the rear of his machine.

Colbert was treated and released from the hospital and Harbison held for x-rays.

A charge of reckless driving was filed in county court today against Colbert.

Army Seeks to Recover Secret Missile Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is trying to recover copies of a secret document containing guided missile information which fell into unauthorized hands in apparent "violation of security regulations."

Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker announced an investigation of the leak Monday night and said a senior officer is being questioned "among others" concerning the matter.

He identified the officer as Colonel John C. Nickerson Jr., 41, chief of the field coordination branch, Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

Brucker did not identify the leaked document other than to say it "apparently contained secret information" about Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's Nov. 26 directive setting forth which guided missiles are to be under Air Force control and which under Army control.

He said the Army would not comment further while the investigation is in progress. It is "taking prompt steps to retrieve any copies of the document which may have been disseminated" he said.

Nickerson, a Kentuckian, was graduated from West Point in 1938 and holds a master of science degree in aeronautics from the California Institute of Technology.

He served in the research and development division of Army Ordnance before going to Huntsville. His decorations include two Silver Stars, a Bronze Star and a Croix de Guerre with star.

Catholic Church in Chicago is Given Ancient Title of Basilica

CHICAGO (AP)—Our Lady of Sorrows church here joined a select group of Roman Catholic places of worship today when it was crowned with the ancient title of "basilica."

At a festive ceremony in the west side church, Samuel Cardinal Stritch, representing Pope Pius XII, raised Our Lady of Sorrows to a type of church that served as the original home of popes from the first years of Christianity.

Because there are only four "major" basilicas in existence—St. Peter's, St. John Lateran, St. Paul and St. Mary Major, all in Rome—Our Lady of Sorrows was named a minor basilica. It joined company with the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris, Lourdes, Guadalupe in Mexico, and St. Anne de Beaupre and St. Joseph's Oratory in Canada. The best-known basilicas in the United States are the Cathedral of Baltimore, Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Boston, Our Lady of Victory, Lackawanna, N. Y., and Mission Dolores, San Francisco.

Derives from Greek Word

One of the reasons for naming Our Lady of Sorrows to this small group was the growth of the "Sorrowful Mother" Novena, which has become internationally famous since its origin at Our Lady of Sorrows in 1937.

The word "basilica" is derived from the Greek, meaning "kingly or royal." A few years before the

Ex-Auditor is Called 'Cooperative Witness' After Morning Testimony

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Convicted former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge testified for an hour and a half today before a federal grand jury investigating a $35,000 lobbying fee paid by a St. Louis utility and was described as a "cooperative witness."

Hodge was to be recalled for more testimony after lunch. U. S. Atty. John B. Stoddart Jr. said Hodge was "cooperative" before the grand jury.

Hodge refused to comment as he left the jury room. "Oh, I don't have anything to say," he said.

Hodge arrived from Pontiac State Prison in the company of two guards. He wore a blue prison-made suit and carried a topcoat over his hands to hide his handcuffs.

The convicted former state auditor said he was tired and "man, have I got a headache."

He recognized a reporter who knew him when he was state auditor and thanked him for sending him a Christmas card at Menard State Prison.

To Hear Accomplices

"Tell all the boys (Springfield reporters) hello for me," Hodge said, "but I don't know how much more they're going to blame me for. You know they've put a lot of things on me that I don't know anything about."

Hodge was taken to the U. S. marshal's office to await his call before the grand jury.

Hodge said he was "feeling better" and "getting used to" prison routine. "They're treating me very well down there," he said.

At another point when asked how he felt, Hodge said "if we had that four or five million dollars we're supposed to have stolen, we'd really be all right. When are they going to stop?"

Hodge entered the grand jury room shortly after 10 a. m. He was the only witness to be heard today.

His two accomplices in the 2-1-2 million-dollar raid on the state Treasury, Edward A. Epping and Edward A. Hintz will be brought here from prison Wednesday to appear before the grand jury.

Warned By Judge

Hodge, on "vacation" from his state prison cell, appeared before a federal judge in Chicago Monday and was warned to make partial restitution for 2½-million dollars he embezzled from the state or spend an extra 10 years in prison.

Hodge was taken to the Pontiac State Reformatory for the night after his appearance before Federal Judge John P. Barnes, and was escorted to Springfield today by reformatory guards.

Following his testimony here, Hodge will be returned to the state prison at Menard to serve out his federal term and a 12-to-15-year state sentence.

State officials said they have recovered only about $80,000 of the vast sum Hodge stole from the state treasury, despite his promise to make restitution to the full extent of his resources in exchange for leniency.

Hodge, a fast-rising politician with designs on the governorship, spent money lavishly during his term as auditor and gained a reputation as a high-living, fun-loving political power.

The source of his apparently limitless wealth was exposed last spring by the Chicago Daily News when an investigation revealed a fantastic check scheme by which he was defrauding the state.

Barnes gave Hodge until March 4 to reach an agreement with his wife on restitution and to repay part of the money he stole.

IPAC Emergency Funds First Act For Legislature

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—An emergency 20 million dollar deficiency in public assistance funds will be a first order of business when the 70th General Assembly convenes, House Speaker Warren L. Wood said today.

Preliminaries for the opening of the 1957 session will begin later today, when both parties caucus to select their leaders in both the House and Senate. The 1957 General Assembly opens at noon Wednesday.

The deficiency appropriation, for public assistance payments by the Illinois Public Aid Commission, is needed immediately. The 280 million dollars appropriated for 1955-57 is running out, and at least 20 million dollars are needed to finance state public assistance payments through June 30.

Wood said he expected a bill for emergency appropriation of the money to be introduced at the opening session Wednesday. About 10 million dollars in federal funds would increase the appropriation to about 30 million.

Hold Session Thursday

The Plainfield Republican said the Legislature will hold a perfunctory session Thursday to advance the bill to second reading.

It should be passed by the House next Monday, when the Legislature reconvenes for Gov. William G. Stratton's inauguration, Wood said.

The Senate then could get the bill next Monday, advance it Tuesday and authorize final passage and send it to the governor for his signature Wednesday, Jan. 16.

Garett W. Keaster, IPAC executive secretary, said bills have been drafted for appropriation of $14,500,000 for aid to dependent children, including $7,450,000 in federal funds; $5,700,000 for disability assistance, including $2,485,000 in federal funds; and $10,000,000, all state funds, for general assistance.

Keaster said the requested deficiency appropriation was "most conservative," and the IPAC "might not be able" to make it last until June 30. "But we're going to do our level best," he said.

Wood said after the emergency appropriation is passed he expected the Legislature to recess for about two weeks while committee assignments are worked out.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

YOU MAY OR MAY NOT have missed this dissertation the past week but I was busy getting started on the Great American-Asiatic Novel and had no time for the near-daily effort.

I've decided to call the story "The Punt of No Return: Or, When You've Got It, Don't Kick It Away."

I've got the bare facts worked out and the heroine is an American girl, Amma, last name Blue. She gets tired of a drab life in the Midwest and makes her way to Nakhon Sawan, up the Chao Phraya river from Bangkok, the capital of Siam, or maybe Thailand to you.

There Amma gets tied up with an international spy, Ude Bee Tu, because she is so naive and doesn't realize that the guy isn't all sweet and light.

Anyhow, Amma Blue and Ude Bee Tu start out together for the rich tin deposits on Puket Island, making the long trip to Thungsong by Singapore Express and the rest of the way by helicopter.

That's as far as I've gotten with the story because I don't know the gadgets on a helicopter and can't get it down.

No kiddin' though, I was ailing and missed a week's work. While abedding I learned things forgotten since the advent of television. I learned how to read again, and tried to work crossword puzzles. Once more I came across words and definitions and meanings that had been hidden in the caves of the past for many a year, as I tried to fill in the crossword squares.

Things like Perseus' mother, European blackbird fragrant oleoresin, Slavic tribesmen, North Syrian deity, hypothetical structural units, Romanian coin, cry of bacchanals, Cyprinoid fish, European rabbit, and do you want more?

You can feel pretty bad when you're sick, but the biggest trouble a guy has, I believe, is seeing the good job they're doing at the newspaper office without you and then starting to worry about how really dispensable you are.

Five Big States

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

A look at the official 1956 presidential balloting shows that President Eisenhower built nearly half his 9,542,000 winning margin in the five states with the biggest vote totals.

Four years ago the President performed what was then viewed as an outstanding vote-getting feat by capturing New York by 835,000 votes, California by 700,000, Ohio by 500,000, Illinois by 443,000 and Pennsylvania by 269,000.

This time he increased his plurality over Adlai Stevenson to an astounding 1,589,000 votes in New York, to 847,000 in Illinois, to 823-000 in Ohio, to 603,000 in Pennsylvania. Only in California of the big group did he suffer a decline in margin—from 700,000 to 607,000.

Altogether, Mr. Eisenhower advanced his percentage of the vote in 29 states, and lost ground in 19.
This was accomplished in the face of predictions that he would draw a smaller share of the vote in many key areas.

Aside from the big five, the President made notable percentage gains in Connecticut, New Jersey, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Kentucky, Louisiana and Utah. In New Jersey, with a total vote just under 2,500,000, Ike's margin came to a staggering 756,000. He got nearly 65 per cent of New Jersey's vote.

Though not much was heard of it after the President's Nov. 6 victory, the once-talked-of "farm revolt" was not wholly a myth.
In the farm belt, he dropped from a few to 10 percentage points in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, North and South Dakota.

In the Pacific and Mountain region, Mr. Eisenhower's voting fortunes slipped percentage-wise in eight states: California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon,
Wyoming and Washington. He also fell from 1952 levels in five southern and border states.

Yet the total damage from all these defections was small. The President wound up with the second biggest margin any chief executive ever amassed. Only the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's 11-072,000 bulge over Alfred M. Landon in 1936 was greater.

Not only did Mr. Eisenhower win 41 states as against 39 in 1952, but he came within an ace of taking two more—Missouri, where his percentage was 49.9, and North Carolina, where he came to 49.3.

The final figures do not support the rather widely held notion that the President's victory was a universal sweep surpassing 1952 in every respect. What they do establish is that in those areas he did sweep, his vote-getting momentum pushed his vote to mountainous levels. New York's Eisenhower plurality of 1,589,000 by itself would make a tidy winning edge.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

According to recent figures, there are almost as many adults studying formally in night schools, adult education projects, correspondence schools and other after-hour programs as there are children studying in our public schools.
Adults not only are seeking knowledge, but also they have discovered that they can learn. The old idea that learning power diminishes with age has been largely discarded. The results of adult study are extremely satisfying.
Possibly this is one reason that religion is gaining in acceptance.
Adults are studying about God and about the application of religious principle to daily living.
Let us increase our study of religion and our knowledge of spiritual truth. We shall be able to make the world better!

Keeps Losing by a Whisker

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Senator Morse Chides Vice President Nixon; John Foster
Dulles Got Rough Treatment From Senators; Nixon Was Urged To Be Another Abe Lincoln.

WASHINGTON—A brief, pointed exchange between two men who don't love each other occurred when Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon took the oath before Vice President Nixon.

Nixon had gone out to Oregon twice to defeat Senator Morse.
The campaign against him was considered the "Yale game" of all the Senate elections. A member of the Eisenhower cabinet had even resigned to run against Morse.

So, when Morse came up to the Senate rostrum to take the oath and shake hands with the vice president, he said:

"Mr. Vice President, I want to thank you for those speeches you made in Oregon. They helped elect me."

Mr. Nixon gulped, then recovered quickly.

"Well, I'm glad they helped,"
he shot back with a smile.

"They certainly did," replied
Morse.

"You rolled with the punches," chuckled Nixon.

"And you threw a few yourself," said Morse.

It was all over in 20 seconds.
No one except the two men knew what had happened.

Note—Though there was a slight note of sarcasm in Morse's voice, he halfway meant what he said—that Nixon's speeches had helped.
For, when Nixon first came to Oregon he gave a pep talk to GOP leaders at Salem urging them to go out and get Morse. "Don't pay any attention to issues," he said,
"get out the vote." Later ex-

Secretary of the Interior Doug McKay got this confused. "Issues are not important," he told the audience. "It's the votes that count."

Morse hung this around Mc-Kay's neck. In speech after speech he said: "I want to let you in on a big secret. You know the position of my opponent, that issues aren't important. Well, at 2 a. m. on November 7 he's going to discover that issues were important after all and that he's going back to that struck auto agency of his in Salem to sell Cadillacs again."

ROUGHING UP DULLES

Democratic senators are really throwing the hooks into John Foster Dulles on his Mid-East policy, and doing it deliberately. Shortly before the Senate Foreign Relations committee met with Dulles last week, Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson phoned four members of the committee—Mansfield of Montana, Sparkman of Alabama, Fulbright of Arkansas, and Humphrey of Minnesota—advising them not to pull any punches.

They didn't. On top of this Johnson attended the closed-door session himself and wrote notes to the senators suggesting questions to ask the secretary of state.

Democrats were irked at the way the administration was forcing them to take a stand on the "Eisenhower Doctrine" by the barrage of publicity leaked to the press in advance. They gave Dulles such a rough time that at one point he said:

"There's only one man responsible for the foreign policy of the United States — the President."

"Then why are you coming to us with this resolution?" the senators cracked back. "If the President has the responsibility, let him exercise it."

BACKSTAGE WITH NIXON

Vice President Nixon's surprise statement that he believed the present filibuster rule "unconstitutional" actually had been carefully worked out in advance. The people who worked with him were none other than some of the most liberal Democrats in the Senate, led by Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Humphrey went to Nixon in advance of the showdown vote, asked point blank if Nixon would answer a "point of order" if it were asked of him during the debate on ending filibusters. A point of order is a parliamentary inquiry which is not binding on the Senate.

"Don't get the wrong idea," said Humphrey, "we're not trying to put you on the spot. But if you give the right answer it may make another Abraham Lincoln out of you."

Nixon listened sympathetically.
"If you give the right answer," Humphrey continued, "we think it would influence some Republican votes and that's why we're asking you."

Nixon discussed the matter carefully, indicated he would probably give the right answer.
Later he did. His statement should have far-reaching effects on his Negro voters if he runs for President in 1960.

SENATE SCRIBBLES

Senators have been playing their biennial game of "musical chairs" with Senate offices. The best offices go to the senators with the most seniority. When a high seniority senator leaves, there are shifts all down the line. . . Outgoing Sen. Walter George (D., Ga.), No. 1 on the old seniority list, refused to vacate his quarters until the last minute. This held up moves by Sen. Albert Gore (D., Tenn.), waiting to claim George's office; Sen. Gordon Allott (R., Colo.), waiting for Gore's office; and Sen. Frank Church (D., Ida.), waiting for Allott to move. . . So a dozen senators were camped in the corridors while cleanup crews frantically painted and polished. . . Pan American Airways' affable Alex Gates picked his way through the the furniture stacked in the hall-ways, looking for the office assigned to Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R., W. Va.). Gates stopped at a pile of debris in front of one door to ask directions. "Revercomb?" repeated a harassed secretary. "He's the next paint job down the hall. . . Photographers waited outside the Senate caucus room for the Democrats to break up their closed-door meeting. Just as the doors were opened, tangle-haired Sen. Frank Lausche (D., Ohio) strolled into the building. He was the man of the hour. Photographers ignored the open door and flocked Lausche. . . Inside the caucus room Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson
sadly announced to fellow Democrats who were adjusting their ties for the photographers: "Gentlemen, we have only one photographer. The others have all gone to Lausche."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Honor thy father and mother.—
Exodus 20:12.
Flaming youth sometimes will not be restrained. Too often the end is a tragical accident or a shameful failure and disgrace.
You can stand on your father's shoulder, it will make you taller.

Miss Jean Ritter, Bill J. Whiting
Wed at Carrier Mills Baptist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Bill J. Whiting

The altar of the First Baptist church in Carrier Mills, decorated with candelabra holding white lighted tapers and flanked with baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery, was the scene for the lovely wedding of Miss Jean Ritter, daughter of Mrs. Ann Ritter of Carrier Mills, and Bill J. Whiting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren C. Whiting, also of Carrier Mills.

Rev. Ernest Ammon performed the double ring ceremony Saturday, Dec. 22, before a group of close friends and relatives.

Larry Edwards, organist, accompanied the soloist, Miss Joann Henson, who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by Cleo Holmes, close friend of the family, wore a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned with long sleeves which came to a point over the hand and a high rounded collar. The tight fitted bodice closed in front with tiny taffeta buttons and the skirt was designed with six lace tiers. She wore a white satin hat and carried a white orchid with satin streamers on a white Bible.

Mrs. Marcheta Clore, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, wearing a ballerina length gown of pink taffeta and lace with matching accessories and a white wrist corsage.

Best man to the bridegroom was Frank Clore, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Freddie Whiting and Gary Ammon served as ushers.

Mrs. Ritter chose for her daughter's wedding a blue lace dress with matching hat and a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a suit of navy blue with a white hat and a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the church basement which was decorated with white satin ribbon, holly and candles. Miss Nancy Pyle and Miss Pat Flynn, both of Carrier Mills, were hostesses.

The bridegroom graduated from the Carrier Mills Community high school with the class of 1953 and attended two years at Southern Illinois University. He is employed with Limerick Finance Corp. in Salem, Ill. The bride will complete her senior year of high school in Salem where they plan to make their home.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Mammoth Cave, Ky.

On Saturday morning at eight o'clock the wedding party was honored with a breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hancock in Harrisburg.

Carmi Citizens Win First Round In Battle with City Council

CARMI, Ill. — A group of citizens has won the first round of a battle with the City Council at Carmi.

The council voted unanimously Monday night to adopt a resolution which stops the use of receipts from municipally owned utilities for general corporate purposes.

The resolution also says that the utilities receipts should be used only for financial obligations, maintenance, operation and extensions of the water and light systems.

Last Oct. 31, the Carmi civic improvement organization filed suit in Circuit Court seeking to require the administration to use utilities funds only on the utilities systems.

A hearing on a motion of the city to dismiss the suit is pending.

City Atty. William Goebel presented the resolution Monday night and said it should be adopted to save time and money in current litigation against the administration.

Trafton Dennis of Harrisburg, attorney for the citizens group, said he does not intend to dismiss the lawsuit. "That will be up to the court to decide," he said.

In other business Monday night, the council agreed unanimously that Carmi residents should have the right to vote on a city manager form of government.

Roy Lechner, spokesman for the Civic Leaders Council Committee, brought the city manager inquiry before the council.

The Civic Leaders Council Committee is composed of civic, fraternal and veterans leaders. It plans to study the city manager plan. If it believes the system will be good for Carmi, it plans to ask for a referendum, committee leaders said.

Father of Two Runs Away with Unwed Mother of Four; May Face Federal Action

JEFFERSON, Wis. — The sheriff's office said today federal charges might be placed against a 26-year-old father of two who ran away with an unwed mother of four children.

The couple was arrested in New Orleans.

Sheriff Roger Reinel said Loretta Warner, 20, and Eugene Bemus, 26, both had been charged with abandonment and Miss Warner with fornication. She had had four children out of wedlock, Reinel said.

The sheriff said a federal charge might be placed against Bemus for taking the women across state lines for immoral purposes.

Bemus, father of two, divorced his pregnant wife a month ago, Reinel said. The sheriff said Bemus had been charged once before with abandonment and had served "time" in prison.

The sheriff said the complaints against the couple were filed by the Jefferson County welfare department and the district attorney.

"I guess I started the new year off wrong," the young mother sobbed in New Orleans. "It isn't that I don't love my children. I showered them with presents on Christmas Day, but New Year's Day Gene and I ran away so we could be together."

Bemus, a television repairman, said "I love my children, but Loretta and I decided to come here because we're in love."

Till Defendant Refused Permit To Carry Gun

INDIANOLA, Miss. — A defendant in the Emmett Till murder case has tried in vain to get a gun permit because of threats on his life since the publicized case in 1955, a sheriff said today.

Sheriff E. W. Williams of Sunflower County verified a report published in "Look" magazine today that J. W. Milam, one of two men acquitted of slaying Till, has sought permission to arm himself.

Milam and his half-brother, Roy Bryant, were accused of kidnapping and slaying the 14-year-old Negro boy from Chicago because, it was claimed, young Till insulted Bryant's wife with a "wolf whistle."

Look quoted Milam as saying his life has been threatened frequently since he and Bryant were acquitted of a murder charge in a jury trial at Sumner, Miss., in September, 1955.

Williams said he discovered Milam was "carrying a gun" and made him stop.

Peterson May Resign CD Post

WASHINGTON — A high administration official says Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson may resign "within a reasonable time."

Peterson declined to comment.

There have been reports that Peterson, former governor of Nebraska, will resign soon to become head of the Theatre Owners of America.

The administration official, who declined to be identified, told the United Press Monday he wouldn't be surprised if an announcement on the subject were made within the next week or two.

Mrs. Nixon Greets Polio Poster Girl

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Pat Nixon, wife of the vice president, launched the 1957 polio "March of Dimes" drives here today by greeting the official poster model — 4-year-old Marlene Olsen of Boston.

The ceremony at the Washington office of the National Polio Foundation was paralleled by similar ceremonies featuring governors' wives in 41 state executive mansions throughout the nation.

Rites Wednesday for Mrs. Logan Kelly

Funeral services for Mrs. Logan Kelly of Brushy township, who died Monday at her home, will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Pleasant Valley church east of West End.

The Rev. George O. Daugherty of Harrisburg will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery.

Courtney funeral home of Galatia will be in charge. The body is lying in state at the Kelly home.

Hodge Questioned On Lobbying Fee

their assets to the state, but later erected a stumbling block to the restitution when Hodge's affair with a pretty Chicago interior decorator was revealed.

Grenville Beardsley, first assistant Illinois attorney general, said he felt Hodge had tried to pay up, but was stymied when his wife filed suit to recover some of the property.

Louis Shenker, Mrs. Hodge's attorney, said that Hodge and his wife now are legal "antagonists."

If restitution is not made within the next two months, Barnes indicated he will deny Hodge probation on 10 years of his 20-year federal term.

Hodge told newsmen after the hearing "I've done all I can" to pay back the stolen money. He expressed ignorance about his wife's law suits, but added she was "a wonderful woman."

Motorist, Shaving While Driving in Traffic, Arrested

PARAMUS, N. J. — State Trooper Joseph Walkomir took a second look today when he saw Theodore Hildebrandt, 29, of Westwood, N. J., maneuvering his auto through traffic on a highway near here.

Hildebrandt, his face lathered, was shaving with a safety razor with one hand while he drove with the other.

Walkomir charged him with careless driving.

Search Missouri Area for Slayer Of Football Star

SIKESTON, Mo. — Reinforced police units patrolled Missouri's "boothel" area today in their search for the man who killed a high school football star and raped his girl companion.

Officers said they were holding several suspects at undisclosed places for questioning in the slaying. The girl, a 17-year-old Sikeston High School senior, viewed the suspects Monday night but failed to identify any of them.

The slain youth, John Malugen, 18-year-old senior at the Charleston, Mo., high school, was shot to death by a Negro as he sat with the girl in his auto near Sikeston Saturday night.

Classes at Sikeston and Charleston high schools were held as usual this morning with no recurrence of demonstrations by students which delayed them Monday.

Officers said they were concentrating their search about Sikeston in the belief that the slayer was a local resident and had not left the area.

Police pointed to a possible link between the slaying and an incident two months ago in which a high school couple parked near the scene of Malugen's shooting was fired upon by a Negro. The assailant in that incident was never arrested.

Funeral services for Malugen were to be held at the Nunnelee funeral home in Charleston later today. Six members of the football team of which he was captain were to serve as pallbearers and the entire senior class was to attend.

Eisenhowers to Open White House Social Season with Reception

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower will open the White House winter social season this month with a diplomatic reception.

The formal social season is the first scheduled at the White House in more than a year because of the President's heart attack.

Democrat Protests Testimony In Secret from Secretary Dulles

WASHINGTON — A Democratic member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee stalked out of a closed-door Middle East meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today charging that the administration was trying to "tie the committee's hands" with confidential information.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said he left the session in protest against taking secretly testimony which he believed the American people are entitled to have about President Eisenhower's request for authority to send troops to the Middle East if necessary to keep Russia out.

Hays said Committee Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) declined to recognize him to make a formal protest against taking Dulles' testimony in secret.

"So I just said what I had to say anyway, and left," Hays told reporters.

Tops Priority List

"I don't believe Dulles ought to be allowed to hide behind closed doors to answer embarrassing questions. It's a clear case of trying to tie the committee's hands. Even if you get the answers you can't use them because the information was given in an executive session."

Hays' walkout came as President Eisenhower urged Republican congressional leaders at a White House legislative conference to put his Middle East resolution at the top of their priority list for early action.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said after the White House session he expects the Midwest resolution to clear the Senate Foreign Relations Committee within two or three weeks.

Affirm Injunction Against Law Requiring Splash Guards on Trucks

SPRINGFIELD — The 3rd District Appellate Court today affirmed a temporary injunction against enforcement of a 1955 law requiring splash guards on trucks.

The opinion, written by Appellate Court Judge Burton A. Roeth, Canton, upheld Circuit Judge Creel Douglas' ruling which denied a state motion to dissolve a temporary injunction gained by the Hoaglund Transfer Co., Lincoln.

The Hoaglund company requested a temporary injunction against enforcement of the act which required all trucks and trailers to attach splash guards to rear fenders. The act became applicable to all trucks on Jan. 1.

The trucking company charged the type splash guards required by the law were impractical and hard to obtain.

tion to the "Eisenhower Doctrine" has been favorable, there were some rumbles of opposition.

Rep. Noah M. Mason (R-Ill.) said today he could not conscientiously vote to give the President military authority which Mason contended was given by the Constitution to Congress.

"Congress has given up too many of its constitutional powers to the chief executive during the past 20 years," Mason said in the congressional record. "It is time to call a halt to such actions."

Chou, Soviets Map Strategy For Communism

LONDON — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai met Soviet leaders today in Moscow for talks believed aimed at halting the discontent sweeping the Communist empire.

The strategy being mapped behind the Kremlin walls by leaders of the world's two largest Communist parties may determine the path of world Communism, observers said in London.

Chou arrived in Moscow Monday with a 26-man delegation and received an ecstatic welcome from the worried men in the Kremlin who have seen their de-stalinization policy lead to uprisings in Poland and revolution in Hungary.

Western observers said it was obvious Chou was called in as a fireman to help extinguish the discontent that has spread from East Germany and the other satellite states to North Viet Nam in Southeast Asia.

A dispatch from Warsaw said Polish leaders already were becoming apprehensive about the Moscow talks and Chou's visit to the Polish capital later this week.

Poland achieved a measure of independence for its Communist regime, but the Sino-Russian talks in the Kremlin may mean back pedaling for the Polish government, observers said in Warsaw.

One of the principal topics believed up for talks between Chou and Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita S. Khrushchev was a new outline of relations between the Communist states. This was expected to involve a partial return to the harsh bonds of Stalinism.

Moscow dispatches indicated the two parties would seek to set up a looser version of the old Cominform which Moscow used to tie the satellites together before it was shoved to the wayside by Khrushchev's de-stalinization.

Attorneys Quit Defense of Hodge Case Policeman

CHICAGO — Attorneys for a suspended Chicago policeman involved in the scandal that sent ex-State Auditor Orville E. Hodge to prison have withdrawn from the officer's defense.

The attorneys for William D. Lydon refused to discuss the reason for their action Monday. The two, Frank W. Oliver and Melvin B. Lewis, said, however, their decision was not based on the merits of the case.

Lydon operated an interior decorating firm while a Chicago policeman and was paid about $410,000

A DOCTOR for BLUE JAY COVE

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Copyright 1956 by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: Cass Ward is apprehensive of her happiness since she came to Blue Jay Cove after her honeymoon with Alex, who is a resident physician and surgeon at the private hospital. However, Cass likes Sue Knapp, who is also a doctor and the mother of a small son. Sue has been giving Cass good advice and acquainting her with the town.

"Do you know that she hasn't?" "No. She—well—she didn't seem anxious to talk about herself. She said she had been ill, though not seriously, and she has a letter from a doctor in Kansas City. He thought baths and water-therapy might help her. To get full use of the 'delinquent muscles.' That term struck me."

"He may be right."

Alex met Sue's eyes squarely. "I've decided," he drawled, "that one of my main projects on the job here is not to practice psychiatry. In other words, I'll take the facts as set down on the history, the lab reports, and so on—and tend strictly to my surgical knitting."

Indiana, Ohio State Off To Fast Start in Big 10 Race; Illinois Wins, 81-70

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Ohio State and Indiana, a pair of Big Ten basketball contenders with only fair records in pre-conference play, were off to a fast start now that they are playing for keeps.

The Buckeyes, winners of 5 in 8 non-league tilts, and the Hoosiers, with a 4-3 mark, each scored their second straight conference victory Monday night.

Purdue, owner of the most impressive pre-conference record (6-1), fell victim to the Bucks when they bagged 11 straight points to come from behind in the final minutes for the 75-68 victory over the Boilermakers.

The Hoosiers made it two losses in a row for Wisconsin, tagging the Badgers, 79-68, largely on the strength of a 28-point scoring performance by lanky Archie Dees. The 6-foot-8-inch center wound up the game with a total of 54 points for two games, tops in the conference.

Illinois bounced back from an opening setback with an 81-70 win over defending champion Iowa. For the Hawkeyes, apparently going nowhere this season, it was their second loss in two starts. Iowa center Tom Payne connected for 28 points to jump among the top ten scoring leaders in the conference.

Michigan evened its record at 1-1 and made it two defeats in a row for Michigan State with a 70-69 triumph over the Spartans. The game marked the first Wolverine victory over their state rivals in their last six meetings. It was the second conference game the Spartans lost by one point.

Northwestern went outside the conference and was handed an 82-61 defeat by Notre Dame and Minnesota was idle.

"Slick" Thompson of Harrisburg and George Starkey of Galatia came up with identical records in last week's "You Pick 'em," each having nine correct picks and missing only one.

However, Thompson was closer on the score of the "game of the week." "Slick" predicted a 72-57 Mt. Vernon win over Marion and Starkey thought it would be much closer, 67-65. Mt. Vernon actually won 86-57, a spread of 29 points.

Thompson and Starkey missed on the McLeansboro - at - Eldorado game, each picking McLeansboro. But Eldorado was the upset winner.

In fact only two entrants last week gave the nod to Eldorado. Jimmie Davenport of Eldorado stuck with his hometown team and Barb and Anita, two Galatia girls working at The Register, also predicted the Eldorado victory. Barb and Anita entered together in the contest.

This week's "You Pick 'em":
Ridgway at Galatia
Benton at Harrisburg
Eldorado at Johnston City
Marion at W. Frankfort
Mt. Vernon at Herrin
Rosiclare at Carrier Mills
Pope Co. at Metropolis
Murphysboro at Carbondale
W. Frankfort at Centralia
Carmi at McLeansboro (game of the week)

To play the game, just circle the name of the school you think will win in each of the ten games listed and for the game of the week predict a score. Then bring or mail to The Register sports desk, so th entry will either be at the sports desk or post marked not later than 5 p. m. Friday.

List of special events for Illinois' 1957 home football season was completed today with announcement that the Michigan game in Memorial Stadium November 9 has been designated as both "I" Men's Day and Chicago Campus Day.
